

HIGH SCHOOL SENDING CHRISTMAS GIFTS TO SOLDIERS

The student body and faculty of the Ogden high school are preparing Christmas gift boxes to be sent to former students of the institution who are in the military service of the United States. There are only a hundred men in the army, navy, aviation service and other branches of the military who have been students at the high school and a list, as complete as it was possible to make it, has been made.

The boxes have been prepared by the students and contain much of the same articles as the Red Cross boxes sent recently by the Ogden chapter. Candy of the imperishable sort, small games, books, sweets of various kinds, handkerchiefs, tobacco and smoker's articles and other similar gifts were gathered by the students and faculty members and placed in the boxes. Tomorrow, it is thought, will be the last day allowed for bringing the boxes in as they must be shipped shortly if they reach their destinations.

Many of the former high school students are now serving in France, but boxes will be mailed to them nevertheless so that they will be remembered.

Salt Lake City druggist said it is something the people have wanted for a long time.

Something that will absorb the gas on the stomach quickly while we do not make as much profit on this prescription as some others we sell. We are pleased at all times to recommend to the people that which does the most good.

It is a doctor's prescription and is a good one. Would suggest anyone with stomach trouble to try about 4 or 8 ounces and see the results.—Advertisement.

MINNESOTA GETS GOOD SHARE OF PRIZES

Washington.—Three more prizes for the best canned vegetables grown in war gardens were awarded today by the National Emergency Food Garden commission, of Washington, to women in Minnesota. A check for $5 and a National Certificate of Merit was today forwarded to each of the women by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the commission. The winners are:

Mrs. J. N. Bernath, St. Vincent Union industrial association, St. Vincent, Minn.

Mabel Hannus, Excelsior, Minn.

Mrs. Gus Larjensee, a Red Lake Indian, Red Lake, Minn.

The competition at the three canning exhibits was close. Mrs. Larjensee won first prize at the exhibit at the Red Lake Indian reservation with a single can of corn. The judges declared the product 100 per cent. The women of the Red Lake agency took much interest in the canning contest and took great pride in displaying their canned foodstuffs.

Mrs. J. N. Bernath, the winner at St. Vincent Union industrial association exhibit, had a display of twenty-four jars of vegetables grown in her war garden. Other exhibitors at this fair showed as many as eighteen and twenty jars of vegetables.

The Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners has almost 2000 local unions. Conscription of labor for war work is under serious consideration.

SLEEPY MAN GIVES A JANITOR A PUNCH IN THE FACE

John Borgn and W. H. Wheedon got into an altercation last night at the Plaza apartments. Borgn is the janitor there and Wheedon is a tenant. It appears that Borgn was disturbing the rest of Wheedon, as he went about his duties in the hall. Wheedon came out into the hall and told the janitor not to be so noisy. An altercation arose and Wheedon took the law into his own hands, altering Borgn's face to some extent. The janitor notified the police and the two men were arrested for disturbing the peace.

In the trial in police court this morning, the evidence was such that Judge Barker suspended sentence on Wheedon and found the other defendant not guilty.

"THE FLAME" TONIGHT AT ORPHEUM

A drama of Latin America, founded on reality, and yet so full of thrills that it is difficult to believe it could really have happened will be the attraction at the Orpheum theater tonight, when Richard Walton Tully presents his latest success, "The Flame," for the first time in this city. Mr. Tully needs no introduction to the playgoers of this city for his other plays, "The Bird of Paradise" and "Omar, the Tentmaker," gained wide popularity. In "The Flame" the young author and producer has given our stage a play as unique, as colorful and as thrilling as his other dramas. From a scenic standpoint it is said that no production in years has excelled it. Particular praise is given to the first act scene, which shows an old stone church perched high on a cliff near the blue Caribbean sea. Other scenes show the Altar of the Sun and Moon in the depths of the earth and a banana grove by moonlight. A magnificent effect has been devised to represent a wild hurricane sweeping through the green jungle. A company of forty players, which has been selected with special care, will interpret the drama.—Advertisement.

MAIDEN SPEECH OF NEW PREMIER

Stirs Italian Chamber of Deputies to Great Enthusiasm and Patriotic Feeling.

KEYNOTE OF POLICY Expresses Gratitude of Italy for Powerful Aid of United States.

ROME, Wednesday, Nov. 14.—Great enthusiasm and patriotic feeling marked this afternoon's sitting of the Italian chamber of deputies. Professor Vittorio Orlando, in his first speech as premier, struck the keynote of his policy, namely, that the situation called for acts rather than for words.

The premier spoke feelingly of the assistance being rendered by the Entente Allies to Italy and a passage in which he expressed the cordial gratitude of Italy to the "great American Republic" for her willing and powerful aid.

Alluding to the creation of an inter-allied supreme council and a military council, Professor Orlando announced they would include representatives of the United States.

A vote of confidence in the government calling for national concord was moved by former Premier Boselli and was carried without division and amid great enthusiasm.

HOUSE IN CONFERENCE.

Colonel House's callers today included Viscount French, Viscount Bryce, the Marquis of Lansdowne and the Belgian minister, Baron Moncheur.

From Nov. 19 to 23, inclusive, the city commissioners will sit as a board of equalization and review on paving district 145, to hear complaints that may come in against this paving, which includes the construction of sidewalks on certain streets in the northeast part of the city.

PRESIDIO READY FOR MORE RAIDS

American People Almost Panic-stricken and Mexicans Badly Frightened.

PRESIDIO, Tex., Nov. 15.—Presidio was prepared for another Columbus, N. M., raid last night. All day rumors that Villa's forces would cross the river and raid American stores were circulated here until the residents were almost panic-stricken. Even the native Mexican element, which rarely becomes alarmed at such reports, were badly frightened and remained huddled in their homes during the night.

The United States army forces here have complete control of the situation throughout the day and night, patrols guarded every ford and crossing, machine guns were mounted in advantageous positions while frequent reports were received by Captain Burns, Jr., commander of the American troops here on a 360-mile sector, from outposts to ford.

After the Ojinaga battle started, two Mexican federal officers appeared at the military headquarters with the report that 1000 Villa soldiers had announced they would cross to the American side to get ammunition and provisions after they took Ojinaga. Motor trucks were parked in the open parade grounds of the army quadrangle with their headlights illuminating every approach to the camp.

Every man was in his place, patrols and scouts shuttled between the river front and headquarters and lookouts on the roofs of the barracks watched every movement. Squads of soldiers were sent out to dig trenches and the trenches which were already in readiness were made by dismounted troops. Every man in camp, whether soldier or civilian, was armed with rifles, pistols and full cartridge belts.

One hundred Villa men were reported to have crossed but this was later found untrue. The American women of the town spent the night at the home of Customs Collector Weisger, adjoining military headquarters, while Mexican Consul Cosme Bengoechea brought his family to Bengoechea, of the headquarters building. One American woman requested a civilian scout to go with her to get her baby. The entire scene had all the color of old west.

Then the federal soldiers from Ojinaga started pouring into camp with a noticeable absence of wounded, who were left where they fell, followed by women camp followers. The soldiers went into camp in an arroyo with General Espinosa y Cordova and Colonel Castro sleeping for the first time in eight days at the sergeant major's quarters in camp.

Soon after the evacuation started, automobiles, trucks and private cars started arriving from Marfa. Soldiers were sent in touring cars and trucks, taking their places as soon as they arrived. Captain Fox and a detachment of Texas Rangers next arrived with a posse of armed citizens. One Marfa who had responded to a telephone call sent out from presidio.

Col. Langhorne Arrives.

After midnight George T. Langhorne, commander of the Big Bend district, arrived in his car, accompanied by his staff. He ordered everyone to remain at his post for the night and with Captain Barnes, stayed at headquarters throughout the night, sleeping on the floor after daylight came. Old army officers declared the night to have been the most tense since the Columbus raid and stated that only the extraordinary precautions taken were probably all that prevented another border raid.

An American scout saw three well dressed civilians led out of Ojinaga at dawn today, taken to the river bank and executed by a detachment of Villa soldiers.

A CLEVER BOY.

Urchin.—Did you see a little boy about my own size round the corner? Old Gentleman.—Yes, I believe I did. "Did he look angry?" "I didn't notice." "Did he look frightened?" "I don't know. Why?" "Cause I heard he was round there, and I don't know whether he wants to lick me, or whether he's hiding from me, that's all."

NAVAL BATTLE IS IMMINENT

One of Most Unique Naval Engagements of War Coming Between French and Germans.

KORITZA, Albania, Nov. 15.—(Staff correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A naval battle between French and German warships is imminent, which when it occurs, will not be recorded in any official communiqué, though it will be in a way, one of the most unique naval engagements of the war.

Lake Ochrida is a large body of fresh water lying a few miles north of here, at the point where Albania, Serbia and Macedonia touch. It is forty miles long and twenty miles across, with towering mountains running around it. The north end of the lake is held by the Germans, and the south end by the Entente allies. It has been the scene of the latest hard fighting, when the Entente troops made a forward drive of thirty miles from Pogradak, at the south end, to Padahoja far up toward the north end.

With the Germans holding the north end of the lake, they did not confine their operations to the land. A miniature flotilla soon made its appearance with oil-burning launches about fifteen feet long, each mounting one gun forward. This mosquito fleet soon became a real menace, for it darted to the south end of the lake, at night and bombed the small villages along the south shore, held by the French, Russians and Serbs. The headquarters of General Tarnahoff, of the Russian division operating with General Sarraill, was in one of these villages.

The French soon took steps to counteract this menace. A small steel craft, thirty feet long, was brought overland from the French fleet at Saloniki. This mounted two guns, one forward and one aft. With it came a commander and a crew of French sailors. This was soon followed by a second thirty foot boat mounting two guns, with its equipment of officers and crew.

Thus two miniature fleets find themselves face to face on Lake Ochrida, with a battle not far off. The French have the advantage if larger ships carrying more guns, but the Germans have the advantage in number of craft. Their flotilla consists of six or seven fifteen foot boats mounting one gun each.

It seemed strange as we went along a mountain road today, to see the uniforms of French officers and sailors and their base as the south end of the lake. The commander Lieutenant Dutoit, stopped for a moment and spoke enthusiastically of his little fleet.

In bringing the boats from Saloniki, he said, "we took out the engines, so that the hulls weighed only three tons. This made them reasonably easy going on the camions. There was no mishap, the first boat is launched, with her engine in place and guns mounted, and the second will soon follow. And then," he added, with a laugh, "we'll see who will do the bombing."

When operations will begin is not certain, but plans are so far advanced that a fight is looked for almost any time now. With such mosquito craft it might be considered a toy battle if it were not for the reality of the warfare, with real naval boats manned by real sailors of the French and German navies, fighting with as much determination as on the deck of 20,000-ton dreadnaughts.

QUARREL IS Aired IN POLICE COURT

John Dopoulas and Jim Carants, erstwhile joint proprietors of the Broadway cafe on Twenty-fifth street, were tried in police court this morning on the charge of disturbing the peace. On Nov. 6, they were arrested by the police when it appeared that they were in a fight. On motion of Attorney George Halverson, the complaint against Jim was dismissed, when it was shown by the testimony

The trial of Dopoulas is being heard this afternoon. There are several witnesses to be examined.

EVERYBODY BEING CATALOGUED

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Sir A. G. Geddes, minister of national service, in a speech today, said that everybody was being catalogued with a view to having greater human economy for an ultimate successful issue of the war. Recruiting for the army, he added, would be carried out on the basis of occupation rather than on age. The state first of all must draw men most heavily from the internal luxury trades but the older men and married men in less essential trades would have to be incorporated into the army.

KILLS PAIN

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of CHAS. H. FLETCHER.
